[illegible] PRESIDENCY OF ROBERTS A WEEK-END GRAND MEETING HERE.

The Chief Executive to Complete the Arrangements for the Coming Meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors — A Full Entertainment Committee Appointed — Grievances Against Railroad Companies Will Be Considered — Conductor Clarke Re-elected Head of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

The Railway Conductors' Convention, which is considering the formation of a grand general pension or relief fund, for the benefit of its members, and their families, disabled from active railroading, or dependent upon them for support, is holding three sessions each day, and it is thought that the agreement will be completed in a few days, but the details which remain to be worked out are of such a character that it is impossible to say how long they will require for their consideration. The convention is the largest ever held by the organization, and the delegates are taking a deep interest in the proceedings. The following officers were re-elected: President, E. E. Clarke, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; vice president, W. Hawley, Peoria, Ill.; secretary and treasurer, H. Fields, Cleveland, O.; grand conductor, W. Wilkinson, Indianapolis, Ind.; grand inspector, J. Hannahan, Kansas City, Mo.; grand outside sentinel, J. Hall, Cleveland, O.; grand inside sentinel, J. Hall, Cleveland, O

THE NEWS FROM ABROAD.

IN THE POLITICAL FIELD.

GENTLEMEN'S NEW, ELEGANT

WINTER SUITS.

"Worth" $25. Price, $15.

Yes, 'tis a "chestnut," and when you're to find such Suits don't come to

WILLOUGHBY, HILL & CO.,

Cor. Clark and Madison-sts.

For they never make such "absurd" statements, as they are not in the "Dry Goods" trade.

Boys' Suits, beautiful, splendid, magnificent, all wool, lined with silk, superior to any, never was any such, "worth" $6, $10, $15, and more, for $3.98.—JUDGE, CALICO & CO., cor. State and La Salle.

Yes, call it a "chestnut." There is another word for it, not so polite. Don't come to WILLOUGHBY, HILL & CO. after the Suits. Ours are "DIFFERENT," are not worth any more than the price, but are "SAFER" for you to buy, as there is no "yes" in them or about them.

PRICE of CLOTHING REDUCED "ONE-HALF" $500,000 worth of clothes for $250,000, "BECAUSE" we are going to "kalsomine" and move around some show cases.

Is it possible that such a "chestnut" will influence trade? Some advertisers think so, and the newspapers take their money.

FAILURE OF WM. HENRY TANST & CO., Clothiers, of Kokomo, Ohio. Have bought above stock for a "song," and offer it for twenty-five cents on a dollar. All-Wool Suits for $4.37, worth $10, or "money returned." All-Wool Pants for $1, worth $3, or you DON'T HAVE TO BUY THEM. Just look at the Tansy Pantaloons.

G. JURGE CALICO & CO., State and La Salle, offer Striped Satin Jerseys at 42 cents; worth 69 cents, more or less.

Laughry Polka Spot Tulle at 23 cents; worth, well, say, 48 cents; no, call it 50 cents.

Mary Anderson Linie Quilts for $3.79; worth, well, "say," $5.00; don't make much difference what you "say"; looks well in the ad., you know.

Men's Shirts and Drawers at 29 cents; "worth" $1.25. (We bought them at retail of Willoughby, Hill & Co. for 75 cents, but everybody don't know it, don't [you].

300 pieces Hamburg Desines, for embroidery, at 10 cents; worth "well" 35 cents a yard, or two yards; when you see them 'twill make you buy something else).

Torchon Lace, 2 inches wide, 19 cents; "worth" 24 cents, or you don't.

Brown Potter Flannels, staplish, you know, 23 cents; worth, (I say, 35-42); don't make any difference what you say, if you don't.

"Aw!" Two dollyes for "Sunset Lake" Silk, right from the worm; worth $4.50, or you don't; our neighbors, Leibenhoffheimer, Hollabrunnch & Co. never sell it less than $3.75, and it's worth more, or we don't care what we say; bring it back if you don't—there!

"No chestnuts" about Willoughby, Hill & Co.'s store—none! Our advertisements may be chestnuts, but they are this year's, and so are the goods we sell at fair, moderate prices, are "worth" no more than our price. Our customers want them because they please them. If they didn't, down would go the price and "value." We now offer 120 (actual count) different styles of Suits for gentlemen and 80 different kinds of Overcoats. We offer $500,000 worth of the really elegant BROKAW BROS' Clothes for Gentlemen and Boys. There are no better; we know of none as good, and every clothing man (outside of Chicago) will make the same statement. They cost very little more, are worth the price, and no more than the price.

WILLOUGHBY, HILL & CO.,

Desires to quote that are "WORTH NO MORE" than they bring. The "Best" and "Solid" Clothiers.

The time when autumn, winter, and spring are merged into the present period from account of the almost equal warmth, and mixed fashions in hot rain, fading, cold, and variegated foliage, and the mixture of thread-paper and fine tailor or private morning dress, either of which can fill a part. Some of the things worn a fortnight ago have gone a-visiting and have not returned, some of yet more antiquated fashions have come and gone, and yet some seem of native. The gas-coloured Gainsborough hat is adopted to promote gaiety, and sunshine-aged mauves and deep shades of turquoise blue, and golden tones under shades of embroidered grapes.

Some ladies are not yet to grasp the fact pressing across the ocean, and that their dress must be changed to suit the time of year, and not the caprice of the moment. Others are not to be brought to go out the dark days.
